

Jean-François Scariot graduated in electrical and computer science from Joseph Fourier University. He has worked in network and system at CIG (Grenoble universities computing centre) since 1993. He is currently in charge of the NetSEC project and works on the supervision of the universities' campus backbone network and of the metropolitan research network of Grenoble.

Bernard Martinet received his PhD in computer science in 1992. From 1992 to 1999 he worked in network and system engineering at C.N.R.S. (French National Scientific Research Centre). Since 1999, he has worked at U.R.E.C (Network Unit of C.N.R.S.). He is in charge of the supervision of the universities' campus backbone network and of the metropolitan research network of Grenoble